

KEY EVENTS IN THE HISTORY OF CFA INSTITUTE

CFA Institute events

Industry events

- 1929 Wall Street Crash; Great Depression begins.
- 1933 The first of two Securities Acts takes effect.
- 1934 Graham and Dodd's Security Analysis is published.
- 1940 Investment Company Act and Investment Advisers Act are adopted.
- 1947 National Federation of Financial Analysts Societies (NFFAS) is founded in New York City.
- 1948 First annual convention is held in New York City.
- 1950 Montreal becomes the first member society outside the United States.
- 1952 The Great Train Ride to the fifth annual convention in San Francisco, California. This is the first time the convention is held outside New York.
- 1954 NFFAS acquires the Analysts Journal from the New York society.
SEC requires Form 9-K, a semiannual report for listed companies.
- 1959 New York society and NFFAS organize first field trip to Europe to assess status of the profession.
NFFAS Board of Directors approves establishment of the Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts.
- 1961 NFFAS changes its name to The Financial Analysts Federation (FAF).
- 1962 First Code of Ethics is adopted by the FAF.
The Institute of Chartered Financial Analysts is incorporated and headquartered in Charlottesville, Virginia.
New York society and FAF organize first field trip to Asia (Japan).
- 1963 First Level III CFA exam is administered to 284 analysts.
- 1964 All three levels of the CFA exam are administered to more than 1,700 CFA® Program candidates.
Securities Acts Amendments permit SEC regulation of over-the-counter stocks.
- 1965 Financial Accounting Policy Committee organizes to advocate for greater transparency in financial reporting to benefit the investor community.
CFA Institute Research Foundation is established in Charlottesville,

Virginia, to create content for the CFA Program.

1968

CFA Institute takes a stand and holds a press conference focused on inside information and corporate disclosure. Sixteen media representatives attend. Later, the FAF develops guidelines on inside information for the SEC.

1969

The Standards of Professional Conduct is approved.

1971

NASDAQ is established as the first electronic stock market.

1974

Professional Conduct Enforcement program is established; the first grievance hearing is held, and the first sanction is handed down.

1975

Securities Acts Amendments impose obligation on SEC to consider the impacts of any new regulations on competition and establish a clearing and settlement of securities transactions in the United States.

1984

US President Reagan honors the FAF self-regulation effort as one of the best in the nation.

1986

Member continuing education program begins.

The "Big Bang" occurs, denoting the sudden deregulation of financial markets in the United Kingdom, abolishing fixed-commission charges and the distinction between stockjobbers and stockbrokers.

1987

Singapore becomes first member society formed outside North America.

Black Monday: Stock markets around the world crash, starting in Hong Kong, resulting in the second-largest one-day percentage decline in stock market history.

1990

Association for Investment Management and Research (AIMR) is formed. In 1999, the FAF and ICFA consolidate.

1992

First Society Leadership Conference is held in Charlottesville, Virginia.

SEC chair praises AIMR's Report on Financial Reporting, which included recommendations for globalization of markets and the explosion of data processing capabilities.

1993

Performance Presentation Standards, a precursor to the Global Investment Performance Standards introduced in 1999, enters the marketplace.

European Union is formally established.

1996

Switzerland is admitted as first member society formed in Europe.

1997

CFA Institute opens its first satellite office in Hong Kong SAR.

Financial crisis grips markets in Asia.

- After more than 150 years under British rule, Hong Kong reverts to China.
- 1998 Russian markets collapse due to investors' fear the ruble will be devalued.
The International Monetary Fund and World Bank provide a financial package.
- 2001 First CFA Institute European office opens in London.
AIMR president and CEO Tom Bowman, CFA, testifies before US Congress on analysts' objectivity. In 2003, CFA Institute publishes Research Objectivity Standards.
Following terrorist attacks on the United States, CFA Institute creates the 11 September Memorial Scholarship Fund to benefit surviving family members of those in our community who lost their lives.
- 2002 Dot-com bubble bursts. Enron collapses because of accounting fraud.
CFA exam and designation are approved in China.
Accounting fraud leads to bankruptcy of MCI WorldCom, which leads to adoption of Sarbanes-Oxley reforms.
- 2003 First December Level I CFA exam is administered.
- 2004 AIMR changes its name to CFA Institute.
For the first time, more than half (52%) of CFA® Program candidates are from outside North America.
- 2005 The Economist and the Financial Times name the CFA Program the "gold standard" of investment education.
CFA Institute Asset Manager Code of Professional Conduct is released.
- 2006 First Certificate in Investment Performance Measurement (CIPM®) exam is administered.
First CFA Program Partner, Saïd Business School of the University of Oxford, is established.
CFA Institute president and CEO Jeff Diermeier, CFA, testifies before US Senate Banking Committee on credit agency reform.
- 2007 First CFA Institute Research Challenge is held.
- 2008 Global financial crisis affects all financial consumers, causing a global recession.
- 2011 "The ultimate benefit of society" is added to the CFA Institute mission statement.

-
- 2012 CFA Institute office opens in Brussels to build relationships with EU regulators and thought leaders.
- 2012 CFA Institute Investment Foundations® Program launches.
- CFA charterholders ring opening or closing bells at 18 stock exchanges around the world in a 24-hour period to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the CFA Program.
- 2013 Statement of Investor Rights is released, outlining what investors should expect from advisers.
- CFA Institute purchases its first building in Charlottesville, Virginia, and meets gold LEED sustainability criteria.
- 2015 China's stock market crash starts in June, resulting in a steep January 2016 sell-off that causes global market confusion.
- 2016 Brexit vote signals withdrawal of UK from the European Union.
- 2018 CFA Institute Young Women in Investment initiative in India provides more opportunities in finance for women and paves the way for participation in the G7 investors' diversity initiative.
- MiFID II, an EU regulation to increase transparency across European markets and standardize regulatory disclosures, is introduced.
- 2019 CFA Institute commits to the United Nations Ten Principles of the UN Global Compact, covering human rights, labor, environment, and anticorruption.
- 2021 CFA Institute launches the first voluntary Global ESG Disclosure Standards for Investment Products - enabling investors, consultants, advisers, and distributors to better understand, compare, and evaluate ESG investment products. The newly launched Certificate in ESG Investing achieves its first 10,000 candidate registrations.
- 2022 CFA Institute signs the industry's new voluntary global Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Code (USA and Canada), committing to DEI action that will lead to greater inclusion of wider viewpoints from the best talent, better investment outcomes, better working environments, and a cycle of positive change for future generations. In 30 days, 30 North America investment organizations follow suit and pledge their commitment to the DEI Code.

